A world-class education

Founded on a tradition of highly integrated academics, the University of Amsterdam enjoys a global reputation for cutting-edge research, high-quality teaching and a broad range of degree programmes. Our open, tolerant and international academic tradition dates back to 1632, and continues strongly today thanks to our thriving community of independent thinkers. Now, with more than 31,000 students, we are considered one of the best research universities in the world. We strive for excellence in teaching and research, and are proud to offer you one of the largest selections of English-taught programmes in continental Europe.

Coming on exchange

We participate in an extensive network of European and global partner universities to facilitate student exchanges and help you broaden your horizon. If you are an ambitious student at one of our partner universities, we encourage you to participate in a challenging and inspiring academic exchange programme at the UvA. During your time with us you will learn new analytical and problem solving skills, embark on interesting subjects that may not be offered at your home university, enhance your interest in global issues and extend your knowledge of the world.

Studying in Amsterdam

Amsterdam provides an ideal environment for academic study. As the capital city with a population over 863.000 inhabitants, Amsterdam is the financial, creative and cultural heart of the Netherlands. It is also home to numerous (international) companies, institutions and museums. The city boasts beautiful architecture and more than 160 canals, lending Amsterdam its unique and charming historical ambience. The people of Amsterdam are easy-going and welcoming to foreigners since English is the city's second language. Getting around is easy, using the extensive public transport system, or you can explore the city by bike, discovering places where no cars, buses or trams can take you.

The city as a campus

The UvA is comprised of four campuses nestled in the city of Amsterdam. Classes are held in quaint old buildings or in new buildings with state-of-the-art study facilities and research labs. On our campuses traditional boundaries dissolve, students and researchers connect, disciplines converge, and businesses, governments and knowledge institutions collaborate.

We're here to help

Incoming exchange students are hosted by one of the faculties and will receive academic and personal guidance from the departmental international office. You may be allowed to take one course at another faculty, but you are expected to enrol for a fulltime course load in one department. The central international office (part of Student Services) informs you about and assists you with all kinds of practical matters. More details on the exchange programmes, faculties and practical information is available at www.uva.nl/exchange.

UvA's global network

If you are interested in coming on exchange to study at the University of Amsterdam, there is one essential question you must answer before you begin: is there an exchange agreement with my university? There is a good chance that your university is already part of our network of over 330 partner universities worldwide. But the only way that you can participate in our exchange programme is if we have an official agreement with your home university and if you have been nominated for an exchange programme by your home university. Your first step in becoming an exchange student is to check our digital world map at www.uva.nl/worldmap or contact your home university to inform about their exchange agreements, application procedures and deadlines.

FACULTIES

Every year the University of Amsterdam welcomes hundreds of exchange students from around the globe who enrol in one of its large variety of English-taught programmes, some of which are rated as among the world's best. These span a wide range of disciplines: Humanities, Economics and Business, Social and Behavioural Sciences, Law, Science, Liberal Arts and Sciences, 'Politics, Psychology, Law and Economics' (PPLE), Medicine and Dentistry. Each of these excellent opportunities offer in-depth academic opportunities for ambitious international students. For more information, see www.uva.nl/exchange

Humanities

The Faculty of Humanities is the largest of its kind in the Netherlands. It offers a large variety of research intensive, mono-, multi- and interdisciplinary Bachelor's and Master's programmes. Most of the faculty's Master's programmes are taught in English and an increasing number of Bachelor's programmes are also taught completely in English. The Faculty of Humanities offers courses in the following fields:

- Archaeology and Ancient studies
- Arts and Cultural studies
- Dutch Studies
- English Language and Culture
- European Studies
- History and American Studies
- Language and Literature & Culture Studies
- Media Studies
- Philosophy
- Religious Studies

Incoming students can choose courses from the entire range offered by the Faculty of Humanities. Besides Dutch taught courses, many courses are taught in English or in one of the target languages (modern European languages). To make course selection easier for incoming (exchange) students, all courses open to exchange students are brought together in the Exchange Programme College of Humanities (Bachelor's level courses) and the Exchange Programme Graduate School of Humanities (Master's level courses). Exchange students wishing to attend Master's level courses need special permission to do so.

Economics and Business

UvA Economics and Business maintains a strong sense of identity and purpose which benefits students on their path towards academic achievement. Doing an exchange course in economics or business at the UvA means you are sharpening your mind to make a difference in society and industry. Accredited by AACSB, EQUIS and AMBA, UvA Economics and Business is proud of its 'triple crown' status. Less than 1% of all schools offering Business programmes worldwide have achieved this prestigious status. Take an exchange course here and you can expect a challenging high-level curriculum with a solid academic foundation and international focus. The exchange courses are hosted by the Amsterdam Business School and Amsterdam School of Economics. As an exchange student, you can choose from a variety of undergraduate and graduate level courses taught in English in the fields of:

- Accountancy and Control
- Actuarial Science and Mathematical Finance
- Business Administration
- Business Economics
- Econometrics
- Economics
- Entrepreneurship and Finance

Social and Behavioural Sciences

The Faculty of Social and Behavioural Sciences enjoys a prominent standing within the social sciences worldwide, with Communication Science ranked 1st in the world and most of the other programmes ranking in the top 20 of the 2018 QS World University Ranking by Subject. It is the largest educational and research institution in the Social Sciences in the Netherlands. Exchange students are hosted by one of the faculty's four colleges.

The College of Social Sciences, the College of Psychology, the College of Communication and the College of Child Development and Education together offer the multi-disciplinary Exchange Programme Social and Behavioural Sciences. This programme offers courses for exchange students in the fields of sociology, cultural anthropology, psychology, communication science, political science and human geography and planning, child development and education, as well as interdisciplinary courses on Dutch society, designed especially for exchange students. The exchange programme offers courses within a variety of thematic clusters:

- Child Development and Education
- Communication and Media
- Psychology
- Conflict and Cultural Diversity
- Development Studies
- Dutch Society and Cultural Ethnicity
- Migration and Nationalism
- Gender, Sexuality and Society
- Global Health, Care and Society
- International Relations and Globalisation
- Politics, Governance and Democracy
- Society, Culture and Modernity
- Urban Studies

In addition, the Graduate School of Social Sciences organises exchange opportunities for two of its programmes. These programmes consist of established networks where international students are welcomed in the MSc Comparative Labour and Organisation programme or the Research Master in Urban Studies.

Science

The Faculty of Science is located at the Science Park, an innovative hub of teaching, research and knowledge-intensive industry. The faculty's building (opened in 2010) contains state-of-the-art facilities, such as a solar and stellar observatory, a greenhouse complex, an experimental facility and several advanced computer labs. To fully benefit from local expertise and facilities, and to offer science students a greater choice in elective courses, specialisations and projects, the Faculty of Science collaborates intensively with the science faculties of the Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam. Most of the Science Bachelor's programmes offer English-taught courses for third year undergraduate exchange students who meet the requirements. The following programmes offer courses in English:

- Biology - third year, semester 1 only
- Biomedical Sciences - third year, semester 1 only
- Chemistry - third year, whole year
- Future Planet Studies (Earth Sciences) - second and third year, whole year
- Interdisciplinary courses - open to exchange students of all disciplines
- Mathematics - third year, whole year
- Physics and Astronomy - third year, whole year
- Psychobiology - third year Science students of all disciplines, semester 1 only
- Master's courses – courses of Master's programmes are open to students with a relevant Bachelor's/ undergraduate degree

Law

The Amsterdam Law School (ALS) of the University of Amsterdam offers exchange students a variety of English-taught Bachelor's and Master's courses, specialized in European and International Law. The courses have been approved by the American Bar Association. The issues discussed cover current topics and there is also plenty of room for debate. Students will acquire a critical approach as well as practical legal skills. The Law Faculty is situated in a brand new campus building in the heart of Amsterdam. Since most of the law firms and important (international) legal institutions are situated in or in the vicinity of Amsterdam, it is the perfect city to explore legal practice. The classrooms consist of a mix of international and Dutch students and teachers. A large part of the teaching staff is also involved in research or legal practice. Exchange students may choose courses from the following tracks:

- Public International Law
- International Trade & Investment Law
- European Union Law
- European Competition Law and Regulation
- European Private Law
- Minor: Law and Justice in the European Union

Liberal Arts & Sciences

Amsterdam University College (AUC) is a residential college, offering a rigorous, interdisciplinary honours programme in the Liberal Arts & Sciences at Bachelor's level. As an exchange student at AUC you will be part of an international academic community, living and learning with students and staff representing more than 50 nationalities. You may choose from over 250 courses covering various subjects in the Sciences, Social Sciences, Humanities and Academic Core, including:

- Sciences: Physics, Earth & Environment, Biomedical, Chemistry, Health
- Social Sciences: Economics, Law, Political Science, Sociology,
- International Relations
- Humanities: Philosophy, History, Literature, Film, Art

Amsterdam in numbers

- 1 Amsterdam
- 8 Windmills
- 40 Parks
- 75 Museums
- 165 Canals
- 180 Nationalities
- 2,500 Houseboats
- 838,000 Inhabitants
- 881,000 Bicycles

- Academic Core: Foreign Languages (including Dutch), Big Questions, Culture

Courses are offered across many disciplines, with a particular emphasis on interdisciplinarity. All courses are taught entirely in English in an intimate classroom setting (with a maximum of 25 students). AUC is located at Amsterdam Science Park in the eastern part of the city, where the academic building and the AUC student residences make up the AUC campus.

Politics, Psychology, Law and Economics (PPLE)

Today's major global issues, such as conflict between identity and migration, the debate between security and privacy, or the global financial crisis, are best addressed by a combined analysis through the lens of politics, psychology, law and economics (PPLE). The Bachelor's degree of PPLE combines these four disciplines in one coherent programme. PPLE is a small-scale and intensive college with a student body consisting of over 40 different nationalities. All find a home in Amsterdam which, like PPLE, is small in numbers but culturally larger than life.

PPLE welcomes exchange students with at least two years of relevant academic experience. Incoming exchange students are eligible to take PPLE major courses offered in years 2 and 3, interdisciplinary electives and interdisciplinary seminars.

Medicine

The Amsterdam Medical Centre of the University of Amsterdam accepts a limited number of students only from international (bio)medical schools in its exchange programme. As an exchange student, you can apply for academic semesters, internships for a maximum of 8 weeks or research electives for at least 4 months. For internships, a good knowledge of the Dutch language is required. Students with a good command of the Dutch language can also follow Bachelor's courses.

Dentistry

The Academic Centre for Dentistry in Amsterdam only accepts exchange students from institutes with which the faculty has an exchange agreement. If you are eligible, you can take courses at the faculty, usually for a short period during the Summer months. Individual programmes can be arranged for you, taking into account your specific academic goals.
